

DIGITAL MARKETING STUDENTS:

Are you up for a project/internship in a Tech-Startup?

MyBlueLabel offers a cloud-based SaaS solution for quality management according to ISO standards to the Life science industry. Our vision to enhance and harmonise processes and procedures through one single integrated solution enabling business success for every type of enterprise based on industry best practice.

We need you to contribute to our digital marketing strategy

Therefore we seek personalities with drive and innovative idea that solves the puzzle

Your work will contribute significantly to achieving our goals and it will create meaning as well as value for MyBlueLabel and you. Therefore, it will be extremely appreciated and supported. We reciprocate by investing in you and give you the unique experience of being part of a startup. The project/internship is unpaid and MUST be part of your education.

Our office is at DTU Science Park in Hørsholm, although we also support internationally based projects. You will become a colleague with a team of committed people with many different nationalities and backgrounds, who all are passionate about entrepreneurship, diversity and making a difference in the world.

Are you up for this?

Then be creative and generate ideas for your project

Do not hold back!

Please challenge us by innovation

Make a sharp project description based on your competencies, passions, and ideas, that will make us choose you. Please also clarify the duration, ECTS points and the type of project (bachelor, master thesis, internship, special course etc.). Send the project description along with your CV to: Head of Innovation Research Julie Kaae Høgh.

We are waiting to hear from you

